NEWS RELEASE

National Registered Agents, Inc. Launches Mobile Application for Searching and Viewing Service of Process, NRAI OneTouch™

NRAI provides leading mobile technology integrated with registered agent services and the critical delivery of service of process.

Princeton, NJ – October 21, 2010 – National Registered Agents, Inc., a premier provider of registered agent and compliance solutions, announced the launch of NRAI OneTouch™, its mobile service of process application. NRAI OneTouch™ enables legal professionals to search and view service of process documents while on the go, providing mobile access to litigation and time-sensitive documents from around the globe. This technology recognizes the advancements in mobile technology and the growing need to deliver critical documents and information to users wherever they may be located.

Customers can now view summary information, delivery confirmations and service of process documents from their iPhone, iPad or iPod Touch. The application also allows customers to search for service of process by date, company name and transmittal number. This new mobile technology provides critical, real-time litigation and legal data to the General Counsel's Office.

“As the industry and technology evolves, we continue to listen to customer needs and adapt to develop solutions that meet customer demands,” said Dennis Howarth, CEO and President, National Registered Agents, Inc. “We are constantly looking for ways to integrate technology with our services in order to deliver the best customer experience possible.”

NRAI One Touch™ is available for free download through the Apple iTunes store. Please visit www.nrai.com/iphone.aspx for more information.
